CALIFORNIA NOW TO HOST MOVING FORWARD + IGNITING CHANGE, STATE CONFERENCE IN SANTA ROSA

June 7, 2024

PASADENA, CA. On Saturday, August 10, at 9 AM, the California National Organization for Women (CA NOW) will host its annual state conference. The collaborative event will feature feminist activists, leaders, workshops, and a day of action.

While CA NOW focuses on six core intersectional issues, this conference will include discussions on racial justice, intersectional feminism, self-care for activists, voting, and the Equal Rights Amendment.

WHAT: Moving Forward + Igniting Change

WHEN: Saturday, August 10, at 9 AM PDT

WHERE: Church of the Roses, Santa Rosa, CA

Confirmed Speakers include:

Dr. Kim D. Hester Williams, Sonoma State University, Molly Murphy McGregor, Co-Founder of the National Women's History Alliance

Find more about the CA NOW and its state conference visit canow.org.

Advance interviews are welcome.
